SEPT 2026

Cornhusker Council Commissioner Corner

Every Scout deserves a Trained Leader

Many of you know that we have a number of leaders across the Council who have not yet completed their position-specific training. As we continue encouraging every leader to become fully trained, let's also make a point to recognize and celebrate those who have completed their required courses.

Top 5 Untrained Positions- Council Wide

Position	Trained Count	Untrained Count	Trained %	Untrained %	Total
Committee Member	211	180	54.0%	46.0%	391
Assistant Scoutmaster	74	75	49.7%	50.3%	149
Den Leader	56	58	49.1%	50.9%	114
Chartered Organization Rep.	66	43	60.6%	39.4%	109
Committee Chair	69	38	64.5%	35.5%	107

Why does training matter? Trained leaders deliver stronger, safer, and more consistent program experiences. They understand the aims of Scouting, know how to use the available resources, and feel more confident in guiding youth.

In Scouting America, a leader is considered "Trained" when they have completed Youth Protection Training and the position specific training required for their role. For direct contact leaders, this includes Hazardous Weather Training as part of the position specific requirements. Find the position specific training courses required at: https://www.scouting.org/training/position-trained-requirements/

How can we celebrate and recognize these leaders?

Let's award this patch at a pack meeting or a Court of Honor!

September Commissioner Challenge: (Source: Commissioners of Scouting America Facebook)

September is Self-Improvement Month, and it's a great time for Scouting America commissioners to invest in themselves so they can better support the units, leaders, and volunteers they serve.

As commissioners, we're always encouraging others to grow, so why not challenge ourselves to do the same?

Here are a few ways to participate this month:

- Learn something new. Take a Scouting training, attend a roundtable, explore a new resource, or strengthen a skill that will help you in your commissioner role.
- Reconnect with your purpose. Spend some time reflecting on why you serve and how your service helps deliver the best possible Scouting experience to youth.
- Seek feedback. Ask a unit leader, fellow commissioner, or Scouting volunteer: "What's one thing I could do better to support you?" Then listen and act on what you learn.
- Set one personal goal. Choose something realistic you can improve during September, such as communication, time management, leadership, organization, or simply making more intentional contacts with your units.
- Share what you learn. Self-improvement becomes even more valuable when we help others grow too. Share a resource, lesson learned, or success with your fellow commissioners.

This September, let's make Self-Improvement Month more than a slogan. Let's become better commissioners, better leaders, and better servants of the Scouting movement, one small improvement at a time.

What will you work on improving this September?

September 2026 Priorities for Commissioners

Membership, Membership:

- Has unit updated their units' BeAScout info?
- Are units monitoring BeAScout leads and responding in a timely manner?
- Is there a Unit calendar of events ready for distribution to families. Encourage many FUN activities!
- Has unit followed-up with contacts made at Open House and/or Sign-Up events?
- Encourage use of Invite a Friend to upcoming activities.
- Encourage training of leaders

Logging Connections/visits in Commissionr Tools:

Please document any contacts you have with unit leaders, even if you are not "assigned" to that unit — this includes all UC's & RTC's! Focus on Membership Growth (fall recruitment plans), Retention (annual planning), Leader Training (efforts to get new Cub leaders trained), and Outdoor Activities (summer camp review).

College of Commissioner Science

April 10, 2027

Bryan Medical Center

We will host the 2027 College, so we will need instructors, participants and others to assist the day of the event with registration, etc. Let Karen or Bill know if you can help!

Have your unit(s) updated their BeAScout Pin?

Thousands of families visit BeAScout.org every day. The new BeAScout site has added features to provide those families with even more information to help them decide what unit to join, but that only happens if units update their pin information. Currently, only 40% of pins have been updated to provide that key information. That is why every unit should be reminded to review and update the details on that pin. Information on how to make those updates can be found at https://www.scouting.org/pin/

Ask a Commissioner

Q. "What are the concerns that young families have about joining a Cub Pack for the first time?"

A. The biggest concerns are time, cost, safety, the commitment expected of parents, and whether their child will feel welcomed and have fun. Families want to know that Cub Scouts will fit into their busy lives, provide meaningful experiences for their children, and not become another complicated or overwhelming obligation.

Pack volunteers can address these concerns by making the experience simple, welcoming, and transparent. Be clear about the schedule and expected commitment, explain costs up front, and communicate that families do not have to attend every activity or take on a major leadership role to participate. Create a welcoming environment where new families are introduced, children quickly make friends, and parents know who to turn to with questions. Make safety and youth-protection practices visible rather than assuming parents already understand them.

Most importantly, show families the fun and value of Cub Scouting. Give prospective families opportunities to experience a meeting, outdoor activity, or special event before they commit. Let them see children having fun, learning new skills, making friends, and spending quality time with their families.

The goal for pack volunteers should be to answer the question every new parent is asking: "Will this be worth our family's time, money, and effort, and will my child love being a Cub Scout?"

If the pack can make the answer "Yes, and it's easier than you think," it removes many of the barriers that keep young families from joining.

Cub Scout 4-Month Plan Workshops

Two additional sessions have been added due to high demand. These are designed to familiarize district executives, commissioners, and other folks who support new leaders with the recently released 4-month plan. This plan pulls together specific (and fun!) activities to support Cub Scout rank advancement with weekly meetings. At its heart, it is designed for small and new packs, with multi-grade dens. Sign up for one of the webinars hosted by our national Cub Scouting committee. The September 15 and September 29 sessions are full. Register in advance for these added workshops.

Updated Guide To Safe Scouting 2026

The 2026 updates to the Guide to Safe Scouting emphasize strengthened youth protection, expanded SAFE requirements, updated activity standards, and alignment with new 2026 program manuals such as the National Range & Target Activities Manual and the Belay On (COPE & Climbing) Manual. These changes reinforce supervision, risk assessment, fitness checks, equipment standards, and environmental monitoring.

Roundtable Hot Topic

Troop Visits for Arrow of Light Scouts

Beginning June 1, 2024, Arrow of Light Scouts will need to visit with a Scouts BSA troop right away in order to complete their Bobcat Adventure requirements. The new Bobcat Adventure is designed to be the first required adventure completed each program year. One of the Arrow of Light Bobcat requirements is to visit a Scouts BSA patrol with their parent/guardian or with their Cub Scout den. Troops and patrols should plan now to hold fun activities where they can welcome Arrow of Light Scouts.

Invite Arrow of Light Scouts to a Patrol Meeting
Reach out to nearby Cub Scout packs with an invitation to attend a troop meeting, outing, campout or event. Scouts may visit the Arrow of Light den and give personal invitations to visit their patrol meeting.

Brainstorm Activity Ideas
Scouts can brainstorm ideas for activities that involve Arrow of Light Cub Scouts. Some ideas include:

- Campouts
- Outdoor Activities
- Field Trips/Outings (fire station, police station)
- Ten Essentials Scavenger Hunt
- Work on a Cub Scout Adventure
- Learn the Scouts BSA Sign, Salute and Handshake
- Learn about the patrol method, meet the members of the patrol they are visiting and learn what they do.

Make it Fun and Welcoming
Start by having someone say "welcome!" at the event. Have Scouts practice welcoming Arrow of Light Cub Scouts during a patrol meeting where they are planning the event. When Cub Scouts arrive, involve them in activities and having fun right away. Encourage Cub Scouts to bring a friend to the event. The friend and the Cub Scout can both join the troop!

Roundtable Membership Moment

New Member Coordinators

Let's talk about the New Member Coordinator and how having one (or more) in your unit can help with membership recruitment and retention.

A new member coordinator –

- Shares the benefits of Scouting
- Coordinates unit recruitment
- Guides the joining and welcoming process for youth and their families

You can recognize a New Member Coordinator by the "Welcome" logo they display on their shirts or hats. They welcome and keep in touch with your new families and make sure they know how to get a uniform, when the next activity is, and answer any other questions they might have.

We know that if new members and their families have someone they have made a connection with, they are more likely to stay in the unit. And, you are not limited to just one New Member Coordinator - you can have as many as you want. Spread out the work and the responsibilities so that no one feels like they have too much to do.
